Evelyn Martindale: drama teacher with an eye for what's correct and an ear for when it's not, 30s

A synopsis of the play,
“Death and Taxes”

Ever wonder what goes on at a small-town city council meeting? This one has turned into a coroner’s jury, looking for a murderer before speculations and the media get out of hand. Not only was a man murdered, but he was an employee of the IRS. Slowly it becomes apparent the entire city council had seen the man, and each of them seems to be hiding something. Who murdered the stranger? Was it Cora Sedgewick, who was still dizzy at the time from stepping on a rake and being thumped in the face with its handle? Or newspaper editor King, who’s right on the spot to report the facts, if he could only find a pencil? Or maybe the mayor herself, who was doing her laundry in the back of city hall?

After you have signed up online to make an audition appointment, please bring your theatre résumé and a non-returnable photo (photocopy is ok) of yourself. Also bring a list of any dates that would conflict with a rehearsal schedule. A flexible rehearsal schedule will be determined after the members of the cast have been cast.
